SCT wins place in 2016 Weatherhead 100!

SCT is thrilled to have been named one of Northeast Ohio's top 100 companies by the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University.

"SCT's success can be directly attributed to the dedicated professional staff at all levels of our company," said SCT General Manager Joe Ventura. "Each and every day our team works tirelessly to provide the very best service to our clients. Over the years this has paid off as our clients have continuously relied on us to protect their employees from the real hazards they experience."

Established in 1988, the Weatherhead 100 Awards recognize "Northeast Ohio's spirit of entrepreneurship and the companies leading the way in Northeast Ohio." SCT is honored to join such an exclusive list and congratulates all of the other winners.

Amerisafe merges with SCT, Expands Reach of Safety Services

SCT is excited to announce it has purchased and merged with Amerisafe Services, another provider of Occupational Safety and Health Services in Northeast Ohio.

The joining of the two businesses under the SCT banner is a boon for the safety sector in our region. The venture enables us to pool resources, including adding excellent trainers to SCT's existing staff of safety experts, and provide even more of the high quality safety training and occupational health services that clients have come to expect and demand from SCT.

We are confident that this move will enrich the safety services offered by SCT, and will show continued success in making all workplaces safer for employees and employers.

SCT Launches Monthly Safety Training Courses

Do you need CPR/First Aid, Asbestos Awareness, Drug Free, Fall Protection, Confined Space, or OSHA 30 training? Then sign up for one of SCT's newly launched monthly safety training courses!

In order to better serve clients, the safety experts at SCT have devised a monthly training schedule to offer customers a more flexible approach to classes. While we still offer customized safety training courses that are business-specific, we wanted to better serve the needs of those individuals or companies who can't fill a whole classroom on their own.

One great feature about these monthly safety training courses is the fact that you can register and pay online. All of the courses on this schedule will be hosted at SCT's Middleburg Heights location at 6993 Pearl Road.

As we get a better sense of what you--our clients--need we can adapt our schedule to fit your needs. SCT offers competitive pricing on these general curriculum safety courses.

As always, we can also customize a private safety course specific to your business for your employees. And we can also come to your location with our private courses. Our main goal is to see your employees fully trained to be safe at work. Our business is about saving lives. Whether it's Silica Awareness, HAZWOPER, Lockout/Tagout, or numerous other safety training courses, SCT has you covered.

Fight the Flu with SCT! Have YOU had your flu shot yet?

It's that time again! Flu Shots are in and now is the best time to get your flu shot. While local pharmacies have been touting flu shots since August, studies conducted for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have found that those who receive their vaccinations in late September and early October have a longer immunity against the flu and its ever growing infection season.

Regardless of time frame, what matters is that you actually receive a flu shot!

Head over to our Middleburg Heights location, 6993 Pearl Road, or call 1-800-204-1729 to schedule an appointment.

Check out our Safety Minute Update video about Fighting the Flu. SCT wants to keep you and your employees healthy this flu season.

■ SCT has new addition to Occupational Health Division

SCT has a brand new, state of the art occupational health mobile unit! Last year, SCT's President Gail Grueser, who directs the company's Occupational Health Division, ordered a customized medical testing van to better serve our customers.

The new unit features two bathrooms available for drug testing, an audio booth for hearing evaluations, an upgraded HVAC system, and ample space in which to accommodate customers for everything from routine drug testing to flu shots and basic health screenings. Already in use, Ms. Grueser and the entire Occupational Health staff have had universally positive reactions from the new unit.

Remember, SCT is a one-stop-shop for all your Safety Training and Occupational Health needs. Our ability to come to your facility means we deliver our customized services right to your doorstep. Don't forget your annual flu shot! Contact SCT today at 1-800-204-1729.

NATE & SCT awarded follow-up Susan Harwood Training Grant

The National Association of Tower Erectors, with SCT as its curriculum developer and safety consultant, has been awarded a $126,000 follow-on training grant from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor Susan Harwood Training Grant Program.

This grant will allow NATE and SCT to continue to offer free, life-saving education to the men and women who work in the communication tower industry. According to OSHA statistics, five tower climbers have lost their lives so far in 2016, compared to four in 2015 and 10 in 2014.

In 2016, SCT and NATE have partnered to provide free training to hundreds of students across the country, with courses held in Louisiana, Ohio, Texas, Florida, South Carolina, South Dakota, Colorado, and New Jersey.

The new grant will allow for 53-hour training for workers and employers and a 38-hour train-the-trainer course in 2017, focusing on fall prevention in the tower industry.

Susan Harwood, a former director of the Office of Risk Assessment in OSHA's former Directorate of Health Standards, passed away in 1996. In her 17-year career with the agency, Ms. Harwood assisted in the development of OSHA standards to protect workers exposed to blood borne pathogens, cotton dust, benzene, formaldehyde, asbestos and lead. The agency's non-profit training grant program was renamed after her in 1997.
